THE SENATORS WASTE ONE ENTIRE DAY

Take an Adjournment that They Probably Did Not Mean to Take, While House Talks on and Completes a Bill.

With the best of intentions, the Senate threw away a day yesterday. Literally, it was thrown away. There is no other term for it. And the workers in the body did not want to do it, either. They were outvoted and out-generalled by the men who were apparently not inclined to labor.

The House spent the greater part of the day in talk, too, but finished consideration of the departmental expenses bill and will pass the measure formally on second reading today.

LEGISLATURE—EXTRA SESSION—FOURTH DAY

THE SENATE.

The Senate almost began the day with a recess, yesterday, and closed it with something like a tempest in a teapot. The morning session was a very short one, indeed. Action on Senate Bill No. 4, which was the unfinished business, was postponed to await the action of the House.

House Bill No. 1, making appropriations for the extra session, passed second reading. It will be read for the third time today.

Senate Bill No. 6, making appropriations to pay unpaid bills, was referred on second reading to a special committee consisting of Paris, Wilcox, Lane, Dickey and Dowsett.

And then the Senate took a recess, Bishop saying that he thought the loan committee would be ready to report at 2 p. m. He would not promise definitely, but in his opinion the committee would be ready.

At the afternoon session a petition was read from P. L. Weaver, Judge of the Court of Land Registration, asking for an appropriation of $532 to pay the expenses of a trip taken by the Judge to look into the land courts on the mainland, and some expenses incurred by the court before any appropriation had been made for its expenses. The petition was referred to the Paris committee on unpaid bills.

TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT.

A short recess was taken at this point, to wait for the report of the Loan Committee, then nearly ready, and when the Senate was called to order again Kalama at once moved to adjourn. It carried, the President announcing the vote as 6 to 3.

"Here! Hold on!" said McCandless. "That report is ready to come in. I question that vote, Mr. President." "I object to any questioning," said President Isenberg. "If the Senators will not stay in their seats, but keep running around and talking, how can I count them. I object to having my counts questioned. You are out of order."

"We are all out of order," said Bishop, who had just come in with what was supposed to be the report of the Loan Committee in his hand, as he arose and put on his hat. "The Senate has adjourned, has it not?" "It has adjourned," answered the President.

"Well, for the benefit of the Senate that has adjourned," said Bishop, "I want to say that I have worked like a nigger to get this report of the Loan Committee ready. This is all nonsense."

Then he stalked out, and the session ended.

THE HOUSE.

The House of Representatives spent practically the whole of yesterday in consideration of the departmental expenses bill in Committee of the Whole. It completed the second reading in all but the formal passage, which will be put through this morning.

A report was received from Superintendent Davis of the Department of Public Instruction regarding the book fund. It appeared that the amount appropriated for the fund for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, was $8,000. The amount disbursed to March 31 was $5,457.80. The amount of bills approved and forwarded to the Auditor during April was $697.82. The total amount of bills paid and to be paid for the three months ending March 31 was $6,165.68, and the amount received from the sale of books was $5597.20.

Coebo introduced a bill to amend Sections 3, 4, 5 and 7 of Act 18 of the extra session of 1933, which was read a first time by title.

THE ROUTINE.

Representative Waterhouse introduced a resolution for the appropriation of $1500 for rebuilding and macadamizing the old Pali road in Nuuanu avenue from the Halfway House to the reservoir bridge.

The Committee on Public Lands recommended the appropriation of $7900 for roads to the Palolo homesteads. A communication was received from Superintendent Davis of the Board of Education asking that the pay roll for support of schools be voted in one sum, leaving it to the department to apportion it.

The Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements recommended the tabling of the resolution to appropriate $7000 for a market at Waiuku.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The House resolved itself into a

Committee of the Whole, with Rice as chairman, on the departmental expenses bill. The items dealt with were as follows:

ITEMS PASSED.

Department of Public Works: General expenses $12,000, reduced to $9,000.

Printing and advertising $7200; passed.

Traveling expenses, road engineers, $3300; stricken out.

Maintenance and repairs, Makiki cemetery, $200; passed.

Maintenance, repairs and additions to government property, $44,000; reduced to $43,800.

General appropriation, to be used for expenditures not otherwise provided for and appropriation exhausted; also road damages, $50,000; reduced to $30,000.

Harris introduced a new item of $250 for the bureau of animal industry.

Coebo suggested an item of $1000 for the encouragement of tree planting throughout the Islands. The item passed.

The Agriculture and Forestry Committee, after a consultation with Forester Hosmer and Superintendent Holloway, reported favorably on the Agricultural Bureau's expense bill. A sum of $29,848, as asked for, was passed.

TO FIGHT FIRE.

Waterhouse suggested an appropriation of $10,000 to be used as emergency call for forest fire fighting. The item passed.

Survey Department, $30,190, passed.

Attorney General's Department, incidentals, $16,000, passed.

Police Department, maintenance of prisoners, $116,400, passed.

Police Department, incidentals, $40,000; reduced to $10,000.

Education Department, book fund, $18,000; reduced to $10,000.

School supplies, $8000 (reconsidered); passed.

These were the last of the deferred items.

A NEW SECTION.

Coebo moved an additional section to provide that if the revenue of the Territory should not be sufficient to pay for all appropriations the money should be expended proportionately. He did this, he explained, so that the administration could not be able to select favored spots for the expenditure of money. The section was adopted.

Fernandez moved the insertion of an item of $1000 for the repair of the Pali road on Molokai, and one of $800 for the use of the Superintendent of the Settlement. Both items passed.

The committee rose and the formal written report of the bill as amended will be submitted today.

The House adjourned at 4:25 o'clock.

POINT HE HAD OVERLOOKED

An Inventor's Burglar Alarm That Was Not Complete in Every Particular.

A great many curious inventions are recorded at the patent office, and a great many others that the public never hears of are "side tracked" on the way there. A brisk, eager individual called on a capitalist for the purpose of interesting him in a device for discouraging burglars, relates Youth's Companion.

"I want to get the idea patented," he said, "and I haven't any money. I'm willing to go halves with any man that will give me the financial backing. My scheme is this: You first make all your doors and windows secure, so they can't be opened at all from the outside—there are plenty of devices for doing that nowadays—make all of them tight and fast, except one. Leave that one so it will open easily. Then run a wire from that window to the head of your bed, where you have an alarm-bell. The burglar comes along, tries the doors and windows, and when he comes to that one he raises it. The alarm goes off, and he wakes you up, and you are ready for him. In either case it accomplishes your purpose."

"But," said the capitalist, "if you can make all the doors and windows fast except one, why not make that one secure, too, and thus keep the burglar out entirely?"

"I never thought of that!" replied the inventor, rubbing his jaw.

Very heartily welcomed, the Brothers of St. Gabriel's Institute, famous for their success in the education of deaf and dumb boys, has settled at Beaconsfield House, near Plymouth, England, on their expulsion from France under the associations law. They are about to commence there the education of the deaf and dumb boys, irrespective of creed.

BASEBALL

Amid scenes of the wildest enthusiasm, and in a game said by old fans to be the best and most exciting ever seen in any local interscholastic series, the Oahu College baseball nine administered defeat to the High School team by a score of three to two. It took ten innings to decide the battle and as McDougall came flying down the home stretch with the winning tally, pandemonium was turned loose. At the previous games of the series there has been little enthusiasm but yesterday made up for all past errors. On one side a wildly excited crowd of wearers of the Buff and Blue yelled themselves hoarse with "Oahu-wa" and other literary concoctions well calculated to put a Comanche Indian's efforts in the shade. On the other an equally enthusiastic band of the Gold and Black's supporters flung their battle slogans across the diamond.

It was a day for cheering and school enthusiasm. For the first three innings there was not a score. The crowds cheered loudly as one after another of the men was retired to the benches. Then something happened. Lo, of the High School was at the bat. The stick and the ball came together violently and the ball sailed way out into the field just where somebody ought to have been but wasn't. Pretty soon it happened again and directly there was a tally on the High School side of the score.

In the next inning Pahu fanned but ran to first forcing Judd out. Both men were called out. For the Highs White went out at first on a drive to third. Defries followed suit on an infield grounder while Hoogs was called out for running inside the line. In the sixth Enns did some pretty work in stealing bases and came home on a hit by Davis and a wild throw by first in an attempt to put the runner out on third. This ended the scoring for the High School. One of the most sensational plays of the game occurred in this inning when Pahu caught a long fly in right field while on the run and in one hand.

In the seventh Punahou scored its first run. The High School was shut out by the most spectacular play of the day. White was trying to steal second and Chillingworth third. The catcher threw to second, White started back, second threw to pitcher who returned to second. White was touched out. Second then threw to catcher who touched Chillingworth out at home. Punahou scored her second tally in the ninth and an extra inning was made necessary. With one gone McDougall circled the bags for the winning run. In spite of the encouraging yells of the fair rooters of the Gold and Black and the cheers of their comrades the High School men could not score and the game ended with the score 3-2.

JURY FOR BERTELMANN

Frank C. Bertelmann was placed on trial in the United States District Court yesterday for impersonating an officer of the U. S. Internal Revenue. There are two cases against him and Assistant District Attorney Dunne moved to have them consolidated. This was opposed by J. W. Cathcart and L. M. Straus for the defendant, and Judge Dole at the opening of the afternoon session denied the motion. He said consolidation tended to complicate the defense and work prejudice to the defendant, citing the celebrated Moloney case of New York and an Illinois case.

Then the drawing of a jury began. At 5:10 this was uncompleted after the prosecution had used two of its three, and the defense five of its ten challenges, with the panel exhausted, one vacancy in the box and one talesman having been called. A new thing was introduced when the panel was exhausted. Instead either of the clerk drawing a special venire of a given number or of the Marshal going out to pick up talesmen, a summons for one talesman at a time was issued. The first man brought in was C. B. Wilson.

The case the prosecution elected to try first was one in which Bertelmann is accused of getting lodging at the Delmonico hotel, Beretania street, from Mrs. Orth the landlady on the strength of a representation that he was an Internal Revenue officer: under salary.

THE LIGHTNING AT WORK.

Steam power is to be superseded by electricity in the government dock yards at Kiel, Germany.

Electricity is to be used to convey passengers to the top of the Washington monument, Washington, D. C.

The electric fan bids fair to supersede the punkah coolies of India. The regular price for four coolies to divide up the 24 hours is six cents each. With electrical fans the work can be done for one-third of the cost, and considerable inconvenience may be avoided.

It has been suggested that the electric heaters of trolley cars be connected to the controller on the platform, so that when the highest speed is required the heaters will be cut off. They require some little time to cool off, so that the heating effect will be sufficient. This will reduce the demand for current by the heaters when full speed is necessary. It requires quite a percentage of the total output of the generating plant in the winter to heat the cars.

Great Britain's contribution to the immense photograph of the heavens, which is being prepared by all the leading observatories throughout the world, is making rapid progress at Greenwich observatory, according to the report of the Astronomer Royal. The catalogue of star places resulting from this observation is also being printed.
